Jubilee Tea Party for retired residents of Saltash

Hennings Moir, the longest established independent estate agency in Saltash, is hosting a Tea Party for the retired residents of the town on Friday 1st June in celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Office manager, Alison Palmer has been offered the use of the Maurice Huggins Room in Victoria Gardens for the event.

Alison said: "We thought it would be nice to celebrate such an important occasion and who better to invite than the retired residents of Saltash. There will be free sandwiches, cakes and tea, much of which has been donated by local businesses. We felt it was just a small way of helping local people celebrate the occasion."

Hennings Moir has teamed up with local driver, Phil Laundry, to offer transport at a small charge for those who need it.

Alison continued: "We have invited residents from all the local retirement homes, sheltered accommodation and local churches but any others who would like to come along are more than welcome."

The event is being held on Friday 1st June between 10am and 1pm in Victoria Gardens at the top of Fore Street in Saltash.
