

Richard Dolton Estate Agents pleased to welcome back Amanda

Richard Dolton, team estate agent in Torpoint, is delighted to welcome back Amanda Notman as a senior sales negotiator.

Having grown up in the town, Amanda has worked as an estate agent since leaving school and has a total of 12 years of experience in the local property market. During her career, she has taken and passed exams in Property Law, Construction, Agency and Management so Amanda is also highly qualified; her expertise ideally placing her to provide suitable and appropriate advice to clients on buying and selling their biggest assets.

After working for six years at Richard Dolton's, the leading estate agent in Torpoint and the Rame Peninsular she left to start a family. Amanda returned to work at another local agency 18 months ago but last week, re-joined the team at Richard Dolton's.

Richard said: "I'm thrilled to have Amanda back. Her daughter is four and so she is working part time at the moment, for three days a week – Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays. She has excellent knowledge and experience in the market and is an asset to the team."

Amanda told us: "Choosing an agent is the most important decision when it comes to selling a home and I'm pleased to be back at Richard Dolton's, the leading agency in the area. In the current marketplace, sales can still be agreed quickly if the price is right; an agreement within days can sometimes be the case and with the benefit of working with hundreds of team offices around the country, all computer-linked, no other agent can match our market exposure."

Since 1973, Richard Dolton Estate Agents has been selling and letting property in Torpoint and South-East Cornwall. Richard opened an office in the town in 1978 and now, no other agency in the area can beat its level of experience and expertise. Locally staffed and family run, the firm has built its outstanding reputation based on the consistent provision of extremely high customer service standards.
