Tile Depot awarded '2010 Best Buy' in national Roll of Honour

Tile Depot is delighted to have been recognised as one of the most outstanding retailers of 2010, with a '2010 Best Buy' award and a place in the Homes & Bargains' 2010 Roll of Honour.

Homes & Bargains is the web site for best value quality homeware and interiors style. Founded by Alison Cork, TV presenter and renowned interiors journalist in 2006, the popular web site now boasts over 100,000 unique visitors per month and over 55,000 subscribers to its newsletter.

Tile Depot is the UK's largest independent tile and stone retailer, with 15 stores in London and the South East and a massive selection of ceramic, porcelain and natural stone tiles as well as borders and mosaics, wooden flooring and all related tools and accessories to take away today. The Tile Depot Price Promise ensures the very best value for customers in all of its stores.

Homes & Bargains keeps its readers updated on the best deals and discounts in the interiors industry, but there are so many unsung homeware heroes offering unbeatable prices and products 365 days a year, that the Homes & Bargains panel decided to compile a go-to list of the year's most outstanding retailers. Alison and her panel selected Tile Depot – the only tile retailer chosen – and the other members of the 2010 Roll of Honour based on three elements – quality homeware, value for money and customer service (based on reader recommendations).

David Fitzgerald, operations director of Tile Depot, said: "We are all absolutely thrilled to have achieved a place in the Homes & Bargains 2010 Roll of Honour. Homes & Bargains is a great, well-respected site and to have been selected by Alison and her panel from the thousands of homeware retailers out there really is fantastic. We are committed to providing quality products at the best prices with excellent customer service and recognition of this has made all of our directors, store managers and staff extremely proud."
