

Press release – 3rd April 2009

Devon and Cornwall auction catalogue available now - in print and online

The Property Auction Group is excited to announce the launch of the catalogue for its next auction, which takes place at the Novotel, Marsh Mills in Plymouth, at 2:00pm on Thursday 23rd April 2009.

The auction catalogue containing details of homes and property, investment and development opportunities across Devon and Cornwall is now available in hard copy format and to view online.

Modern and period property across the counties including building plots in and near Redruth and Chudleigh; bungalows in and close to Tintagel, Callington and Newton Abbot; a period cottage, a studio flat and a large family home in and around Chudleigh; a town house in Newton Abbot; and an apartment in St Austell, will go under the hammer with guide prices ranging from £45,000 to £325,000, six of the lots with guide prices at or under £100,000.

The web site, www.thepropertyauctiongroup.co.uk, is simple to navigate with a countdown to the time of the next auction on the home page. The site contains some background details about The Property Auction Group and some general advice and information, as well as a four-page guide to selling at auction, which includes who, why and what is involved in the process. More specifically, the site provides all the tools needed to request a free auction valuation, to enter a property for auction, and to request information and forms.

The full catalogue can be viewed online, with a link through to individual pages for each lot, where the legal pack can also be viewed and downloaded.
