

Press release – 23rd March 2009

team extends online coverage with NFOPP

With well over 70% of people finding their new home online, Westcountry team is delighted to announce that property for sale with its member agents is now listed on the only property search site that's regulated, protected and run by a professional body of fully accredited agents.

www.PropertyLive.co.uk is owned by NFOPP – the National Federation of Property Professionals, which was formed in 2007 by the coming together of four well-established and highly-regarded specialist organisations in the property sector – the NAEA, ARLA, NAVA and ICBA. Set to become the most trusted property web site in the UK, it not only allows visitors to search for property for sale and to let, but also contains a handy search to show property sold and the prices actually gained, as well as links through to the appropriate organisations' web sites to find sales, lettings and commercial property agents as well as valuers and auctioneers.

Property for sale with Westcountry team estate agents, which are also members of one or more of the NFOPP partners, will also appear on www.PropertyLive.co.uk along with a choice of property from 13,000 other local agents.

Steve Moir, chairman of Westcountry team, says: "NFOPP is such a highly regarded organisation, and as the only property site owned and regulated by a professional body, www.PropertyLive.co.uk will soon become one of the biggest and most popular portals, with its house prices search feature and the confidence that all listed agents satisfy the high standards that membership of the organisations demand. We are delighted to have struck this deal with NFOPP, and we are thrilled to offer a truly exceptional online presence for our vendors."

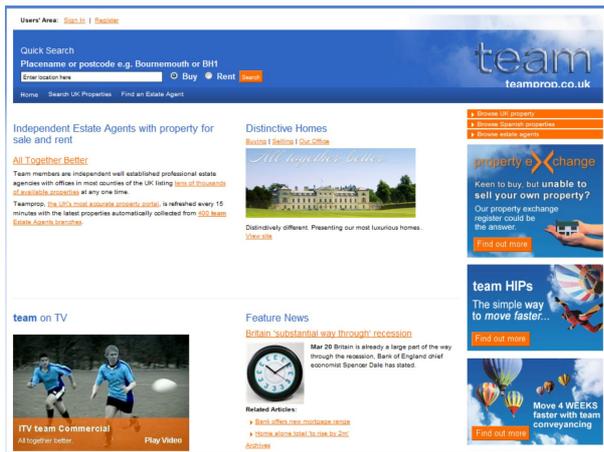

team's own web site, www.teamprop.co.uk, being automatically updated every 15 minutes, is the most accurate of the UK's property portals. Details are automatically fed through from www.teamprop.co.uk to some of the leading sites including www.thinkproperty.com, www.globrix.com, www.nestoria.com and www.latesthomes.co.uk, and team estate agents also list their properties on www.rightmove.co.uk, www.propertyfinder.co.uk, www.findaproperty.co.uk, www.primelocation.co.uk and www.email4property.co.uk, covering every one of the top portals.
